

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to interfere in the election with this electioneering broadcast, meant to affect the entire country is an outrage, and a violation of the public trust. No Sinclair affiliate should be permitted free use of the publically-owned airwaves for their own partisan purposes. The fact that they may try to influence the election to secure friendly FCC decisions regarding media consolidation shows exactly why the FCC must oppose that consolidation in the interest of all Americans.

Sadly, we all know what a joke the FCC is: a handmaiden of corporate interests and revolving-door appointments meant to enrich the few at the expense of the many.
